

6-YEAR-OLD GIRLS SWIM MILE

Two, After 51 Minutes in Water, Finish Strong and Laughing.

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—Two six-year-old girls accomplished a remarkable feat yesterday by swimming a mile on the Schuylkill River at Lafayette. The girls were Dorothy Klump of No. 3218 Girard Avenue and Ethel Schott of No. 3205 North Twenty-second Street. The children started from a point one mile from the Philadelphia Swimming Club and were accompanied by their mothers.

After rubbing vasoline on their faces they plunged overboard, being cautioned not to race. They both used a side stroke and went through the water with evidence of remarkable strength and reserve power. After fifty-one minutes in the water the two girls landed at the Philadelphia Club's diving platform and called for oranges and sandwiches.

A Message to Thin, Weak, Scrawny Folks

An Easy Way to Gain 10 to 30 lbs of Solid, Healthy, Permanent Flesh

This, nervous, undeveloped men and women everywhere are heard to say, "I can't understand why I don't get fat. I eat plenty of good, nourishing food. The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fat-making elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste."

What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and hand them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, run-down tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. The best way to overcome this sinful waste of flesh-building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to use Sargol, the recently discovered regenerative force that is recommended so highly by physicians here and abroad. Take a little Sargol tablet with every meal and notice how quickly your cheeks fill out, and rolls of firm, healthy flesh are deposited over your body, covering each bony angle and projecting point. All good druggists have Sargol, or can get it from their wholesaler, and will refund your money if you are not satisfied with the gain in weight it produces, as stated on the guarantee in each package. It is inexpensive, easy to take and highly efficient.

Note:—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach trouble, it should not be taken unless you are willing to gain ten pounds or more, for it is a wonderful flesh-builder.—Advt.

CHALLENGE IN NOTE SENT TO WILSON BY CHAZARO ON MEXICO

Head of Villa-Zapata Government Tries to Make President Appear Inconsistent.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Francisco Lagos Chazaro, the latest President of the Villa-Zapata coalition government in Mexico City, today replied to President Wilson's Mexican statement by challenging the consistency of the President's declaration with his much discussed Indianapolis speech.

President Wilson's statement served notice on the factional leader that if they could not accommodate their differences, the United States would be constrained as Mexico's best friend to help Mexico save herself and serve her people.

Chazaro says the Convention Government cannot reconcile that with the President's declaration in Indianapolis that he had no disposition to interfere in Mexican affairs.

"But," says Chazaro's reply, received today at the State Department, "we continue to conjecture that the general idea of President Wilson's proclamation is to help us in a friendly way."

If the President's declaration is to be construed as a threat, Chazaro adds, the Convention Government "will maintain the dignity of the Mexican people." It blames the Carranza forces for Mexico's plight.

Chazaro's reply and those from Carranza and Villa were considered at the Cabinet meeting. After the meeting none of the members would comment. It was indicated, however, that a fair opportunity would be allowed for the factional leaders to unite on some plan.

DIVORCES FILM MAN WHOSE SECRETARY POSED AS HIS WIFE.

SUN SPOTS CAUSING STRANGE DISTURBANCES

(Special to The Evening World.)

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Extraordinary spots on the sun were detected yesterday by Naval Observatory scientists, which, they say, are causing strange electrical disturbances. Not one large spot, but a large number of spots were noted on the sun's face and in one part of the orb there was a whole string of spots stretching out in a line. Photographs of the sun were taken and are being carefully developed for purposes of study.

Capt. J. A. Hoogewerf, Superintendent of the Observatory, said to The Evening World correspondent today: "Personally I believe the sun spots have caused the magnetic and electrical disturbances of the last few days, but just what the connection is we do not know. The scientists are studying that phase, but until something definite is discovered, nothing official can be said on the subject."

"WIFE" WAS SECRETARY, SO MRS. CORN WINS HER DIVORCE ACTION

Suit Had Its Inception in Chance Invitation to Breakfast at Hotel.

A breakfast table conversation in a Kansas City hotel, repeated today to Supreme Court Justice Weeks, resulted in a decree of divorce for Mrs. Estelle Corn, daughter of H. J. Fleischmann, the Fifth Avenue florist, from Paul J. Corn, a wealthy film manufacturer.

Mrs. Corn told the court that she never would have known of her husband's infatuation for his secretary, a woman much older than Mrs. Corn, save for the fact that Corn invited his best friend, Joseph Gilead, to have breakfast.

"When we reached the table," Gilead told Justice Weeks, "Mr. Corn told the waiter to prepare a table for three. I asked him who the third party was, and he said she was his secretary. Pretty soon she came down and we breakfasted."

"You are sure the secretary was not Mrs. Corn?" asked Henry J. Goldsmith, attorney for Mrs. Corn, as he directed the witness's attention to the pretty young wife.

"I should say not," replied Gilead. "Why, that secretary couldn't hold a candle to Mrs. Corn. Why, she was a much older woman, and when she came to the table she looked like a battle."

Justice Weeks interrupted the witness. "Never mind what she looked like," said the court. "Well, there was a funny mix-up about the whole matter," said Gilead, "for after Corn introduced me to his secretary—I've forgotten her name—I chanced to glance over the hotel register and I saw the entry 'Paul Corn and wife.' I knew there was something up. They didn't talk like a business man and his secretary. Their conversation was altogether too mushy for that."

A decree was awarded to Mrs. Corn.

STREET ORATORS WILL ATTACK TROTTERIES

Crusade Against "Social Gangsters" Begun by Young Men's Democratic League.

Professing as one of its prime purposes the elimination of the social gangster through a fight against the trotteries and tango roofs, the Young Men's Democratic League of New York, an organization of recent origin, will hold a meeting of its speakers' Bureau to-night at the league's headquarters, No. 1348 Broadway.

Thomas J. Sheridan, a lawyer, who is Chairman of the youthful orators, says that his men will plant their soap boxes near the doors of various Broadway dancing palaces and tell young patrons of these places that they are wasting their time and money. Through this agency the league hopes to increase its own membership.

The young propagandists, most of whom are college students or recent graduates, will have enrollment blanks ready to sign up such youths as wish to join the crusade. About 100 anti-tango preachers are expected to attend to-night's meeting.
